INTRODUCTION

The 51st edition of the Football Yearbook is the first time it has been published without a sponsor. In a truly extraordinary season affected dramatically and drastically by the COVID-19 pandemic we have had curtailments, postponements, games behind closed doors and declarations of null-and-void competitions. Even so, the coverage in this edition is once again full and comprehensive.

Full coverage of the European Qualifying campaign for Euro 2020 including match line-ups and league tables is included. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic the Euro 2020 finals have been re-arranged for 2021. Other international football at various levels is well covered in this edition.

The concise feature entitled Cups and Ups and Downs Diary is included with dates of those events affecting cup finals, promotion and relegation issues. The Managers In and Out section is once again included, with a diary of the many managerial changes throughout the year.

At European level, the Champions League, with an unusal end to the competition, has its usual comprehensive details included, with results, goalscorers, attendances, full line-ups and formations from the qualifying rounds onwards and also including all the league tables from the respective group stages. The Europa League includes full line-ups, formations and league tables from the group stage onwards.

The 2019–20 Premier League season saw Liverpool's quest for glory interrupted, but eventually fulfilled late in June. The top two divisions in England did not complete until the end of July whilst The Championship season ended with Leeds United and West Bromwich Albion promoted automatically, and they were joined by Fulham who won the Championship Play-Off 2-1 against west London rivals Brentford at Wembley. Leagues One and Two ended prematurely and were decided on a points-per-game basis. Coventry City and Rotherham United were promoted automatically from League One with Wycombe Wanderers the big winners in the points-per-game issue, overcoming Oxford United in the play-off final. Tranmere Rovers, the big losers on points-per-game, were relegated to League Two along with Southend United and Bolton Wanderers who started the season with a 12-point deduction. League Two saw Swindon Town, Crewe Alexandra and Plymouth Argyle achieve automatic promotion and joining them in League One was Northampton Town with a comprehensive 4-0 final win over Exeter City.

Jordan Henderson of Liverpool and England won the Football Writers' Footballer of the Year award. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic the PFA Player of the Year award was cancelled.

All of these statistics are reproduced in the pages devoted not only to the Premier League, but the three Football League competitions too, as well as all major allied cup competitions.

In women's football, the UEFA Women's Euro 2021 Qualifying is covered up-to-date. The Women's Super League, Championship and National Leagues are included, together with the domestic cup competitions: Women's FA Cup and League Cup. The Women's UEFA Champions League is also covered. England Women's Internationals since 1974 and all of the 2019–20 season's games are included.

In an age where transfer fees are frequently undisclosed and rarely given as official figures, the edition reflects those listed at the time.

In the club-by-club pages that contain the line-ups of all league matches, appearances are split into starting and substitute appearances. In the Players Directory the totals show figures combined.

The Players Directory and its accompanying A to Z index enables the reader to quickly find the club of any specific player.

Throughout the book players sent off are designated with *; substitutes in the club pages are 12, 13 and 14. From June onwards in the Premier League and Championship additional substitutes were allowed and these are shown as 15 and 16.

In addition to competitions already mentioned there is full coverage of Scottish Premiership, Scottish Football League and Scottish domestic cup competitions. There are also sections devoted to Welsh and Irish football, Under-21s and various other UEFA youth levels, schools, reserve team, academies, referees and the leading non-league competitions as well as the work of club chaplains. The chief tournaments outside the UK at club and national level are not forgotten. The International Directory itself features Europe in some depth as well as every FIFA-affiliated country's international results for the year since July 2019; every reigning league and cup champion worldwide is listed.

Naturally there are international appearances and goals scored by players for England, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Wales and the Republic of Ireland. For easy reference, those players making appearances and scoring goals in the season covered are picked out in bold type.

The Football Yearbook would like to extend its appreciation to the publishers Headline for excellent support in the preparation of this edition, particularly Graham Green for his continued help and Jonathan Taylor for the photographic selection throughout the book and his selection of the Team of the Season.

In addition the Football Yearbook is also keen to thank the following individuals and organisations for their co-operation. Special thanks to Jonathan Wilson for his Review of the Season.

Thanks are also due to Ian Nannestad for the Obituaries and the Did You Know? and Fact File features in the club section. Many thanks also to John English for his conscientious proof reading and compilation of the International Directory.

Sincere thanks to George Schley and Simon Dunnington for their excellent work on the database, and to Andy Cordiner, Geoff Turner, Brian Tait, Robin Middlemiss and the staff at Wearset for their much appreciated efforts in the production of the book throughout the year.

TEAM OF THE SEASON 2019–20

JONATHAN TAYLOR

Alisson Becker
(Liverpool)

Trent Alexander-Arnold (Liverpool)	Virgil van Dijk (Liverpool)	Caglar Sojuncu (Leicester C)	Andy Robertson (Liverpool)
Raheem Sterling (Manchester C)	Kevin De Bruyne (Manchester C)	Jordan Henderson (Liverpool)	Sadio Mané (Liverpool)
	Danny Ings (Southampton)	Jamie Vardy (Leicester C)

Manager: Jurgen Klopp
(Liverpool)

Alisson Becker: the Brazilian's resilience and consistency between the posts were major factors in helping to drive Liverpool to the title. Compatriot Ederson may have registered more clean sheets in the Premier League, but Alisson's all-round excellence makes him one of the very best keepers in the world.

Trent Alexander-Arnold: fast establishing himself as one of Europe's most exciting full-backs, and a vital cog in the Liverpool machine. Quick feet, a quick brain, and a spectacular range of set pieces and long passing give him an incredible array of offensive weapons. Now has both a Champions League and a Premier League medal at the age of 21.

Virgil van Dijk: perhaps not the almost flawless campaign of the previous season, but mightily impressive nonetheless. The Dutch colossus is a defensive thoroughbred and surely on-track to be one of Europe's most celebrated and coveted centre-halves.

Caglar Sojuncu: the Turkish international has cemented his reputation as one of the best central defenders in the league. As Leicester City maintained a Champions League push for much of the season, Sojuncu stood out with his first-rate tackling, heading and reading of the game.

Andy Robertson: another hugely productive season for the Scottish left-back: 36 league appearances, 12 assists and two goals speak volumes about Robertson's consistency, dynamism, output and – ultimately – undoubted value to his club side.

Raheem Sterling: a trailblazer both on and off the pitch, Sterling was an eloquent and inspirational figure in the age of Black Lives Matter. He scored 20 times in the Premier League and a remarkable 31 times in all competitions. City may have only finished with the League Cup to show for their efforts, but Sterling continues to tear defences apart with his pace, skill and football acumen.

Kevin De Bruyne: is there a better, more visionary passer in world football? The Belgian took his game to the next level, expertly pulling City's strings in midfield and facilitating nearly all their attacking menace with his intelligence, technique and extraordinary range of passing. A Premier League return of 13 goals and 20 assists tells its own story.

Jordan Henderson: the FWA Footballer of the Year ended his season by lifting Liverpool's first league title since 1990. Leads by example and provides the vital glue that binds his team together so effectively. So much to admire in this occasionally underrated midfield dynamo and genuine leader.

Sadio Mané: although Liverpool's front three didn't quite enjoy the same output as they did in the previous season, Mané remained one of the most potent attacking threats in the league. The Senegalese international grabbed 18 goals in the Reds' title-winning campaign and continued to cause Premier League defences a major headache with his fearless running, incisiveness and frequent goal threat.

Danny Ings: when Southampton lost 9-0 at home to Leicester City in October and dropped to eighteenth in the table, very few would have believed the Saints could finish in a comfortable eleventh spot with 52 points. Ings' endless energy and astuteness in the box were huge factors in that resurgence: he finished with 22 goals, just one shy of claiming a share of the Golden Boot. It would not have gone unnoticed by Gareth Southgate.

Jamie Vardy: the evergreen striker enjoyed one of his most productive seasons, scoring just one fewer (23) than he did in Leicester City's title-winning campaign of 2015–16, and recording his hundredth Premier League goal in the process. His eye for goal, speed and intense workrate made him a defender's nightmare and helped to sustain the Foxes' challenge at the business end of the table until the last few weeks.

Manager, Jurgen Klopp: it's impossible to look beyond the charismatic maestro. It would've been understandable if the Reds had struggled to kick on from their stellar 2018–19 campaign, but Klopp confidently delivered Liverpool's first title for three decades. The stats are extraordinary: 32 wins out of 38; 18 wins at home out of 19; 85 goals; and 99 points – a club record and the second highest points tally in the history of England's top division. A virtuoso performance, masterminded by a modern managerial genius.

FOREWORD

A new coronavirus (COVID-19) was to shake the world in early 2020. Football was not to be exempt. The disease was to claim many lives and affect our whole way of life. Lockdown came to many countries, the UK following the lead of Italy, France and others. Life as we knew it was suspended. Our magnificent health and key workers fought so bravely to keep the virus at bay and to allow us some semblance of normality. Schools were closed, those who could worked from home. Many workers were furloughed, many lost their jobs. The fight goes on.

Late in January football in China had been affected by the spread of the virus. By late February, matches in northern Italy were postponed. The start of South Korea's K-league was postponed, and games in Japan's J-league were also postponed. The top two divisions in Switzerland suspended matches. Other nations were to follow suit: Germany, Spain, Denmark, France and USA. The football world was in the grip of the virus.

On 10 March, it was announced that Olympiacos owner Evangelos Marinakis had tested positive for COVID-19. Several Arsenal players were forced to self-isolate after coming into contact with Marinakis at the clubs' Europa League clash at the Emirates on 27 February. The following day Arsenal's league clash with Manchester City was postponed as a precautionary measure. On 12 March Mikel Arteta tested positive for COVID-19 and their fixture at Brighton & HA that weekend was postponed.

By 13 March, the Football Association, Premier League, EFL and Women's Leagues had agreed to postpone football in England until at least 3 April. On the same day Scottish football was postponed indefinitely and Welsh football until 4 April at least. Extensions to these dates would come and go, as governments and authorities tried to understand the implications of the virus. However, the resolve to restart and finish the season was seemingly unwavering.

International football suffered the same fate. On 17 March, Euro 2020 was suspended until 2021. By 1 April, UEFA postponed all international matches until at least the end of June. On the same day the European Champions League and Europa League were suspended until further notice.

The Football Association announced on 26 March that all football below the three leagues of the National League would end immediately with all results expunged. No promotion or relegation would happen in any of these leagues. The women's game below the Women's Super League and Championship were also ended with the same conclusion.

Football was in either a suspended or curtailed state. In the UK, stadiums were given over to the NHS as testing stations or rest and relaxation areas for staff.

On 28 April, France banned all sporting events and therefore Ligues 1 and 2 were curtailed. Final league positions were calculated on a points-per-game basis. The decision would lead to legal proceedings.

After much debate in the EFL, Leagues One and Two were ended on 15 May. The league positions were decided on a points-per-game basis with play-offs to be played and relegations to be made. The National League voted to end the season on 22 April, but the decision to decide league positions on points-per-game was not made until 17 June. That decision meant that Barrow were promoted back to the Football League after 48 years in non-league. Play-offs were to be played.

With even more debate and votes behind them the SPFL ended the Scottish Premier League season on 18 May, positions calculated on a points-per-game basis. Celtic were champions for a ninth season in succession and Hearts relegated.

Football needed to return and the fans needed football to return. Salvation came from Germany who announced on 7 May that the Bundesliga would resume on 16 May. As matches began, the whole of Europe looked on in anticipation. Spain's La Liga would resume on 8 June and Serie A in Italy on 20 June.

The English Premier League and Championship remained committed to finishing the season and Project Restart was born. Many virtual meetings and votes were held. Non-contact training and then eventually full-contact training resumed and finally it was decided that the Premier League would restart on 17 June. The opening match would be the first one postponed due to the virus, Manchester City at home to Arsenal. City would prevail 3-0 in an error-strewn match. The Championship resumed on 20 June with the first game back a London derby between Fulham and Brentford at Craven Cottage. Brentford won 2-0 with two late goals.

Football was back. Played behind closed doors. Hand-shaking banned, face masks worn. Balls and goal-frames sanitised and cleaned at regular intervals. Social distancing, in near-empty stadiums, observed. Five substitutes allowed and drinks breaks in both halves, but football was back. Every Premier League match televised, with Saturday 3 o'clock kick-offs included – a sign of things to come?

Liverpool had to wait until 25 June to finally be crowned champions. They had been magnificent. Manchester City's 1-2 defeat at Chelsea sealed the title for the Reds and their 30-year wait was ended. The trophy was lifted by captain Jordan Henderson in an empty Anfield after their final home game of the season against Chelsea.

This is football – but not as we know it! Plans are being drawn up for the 2020–21 season. We wait in anticipation.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON 2019–20

It was the longest season, and also the shortest one. If you went by the calendar, Liverpool won the title later than any side ever had before; if you went by the fixture list, they won it earlier. Whatever the disruption caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Liverpool were one of the most dominant champions the Premier League has known, at one stage a record 23 points clear of Manchester City in second.

After coming so close in 2018–19, totalling 97 points (at the time, the third-highest tally in history) and yet still coming second, there were doubts about whether Liverpool would be able to pick themselves up and go again. But if anything they were even better than they had been, tighter defensively and more ruthless, while it was City who faltered: they could have won every game from 8 October onwards and they still wouldn't have caught Liverpool.

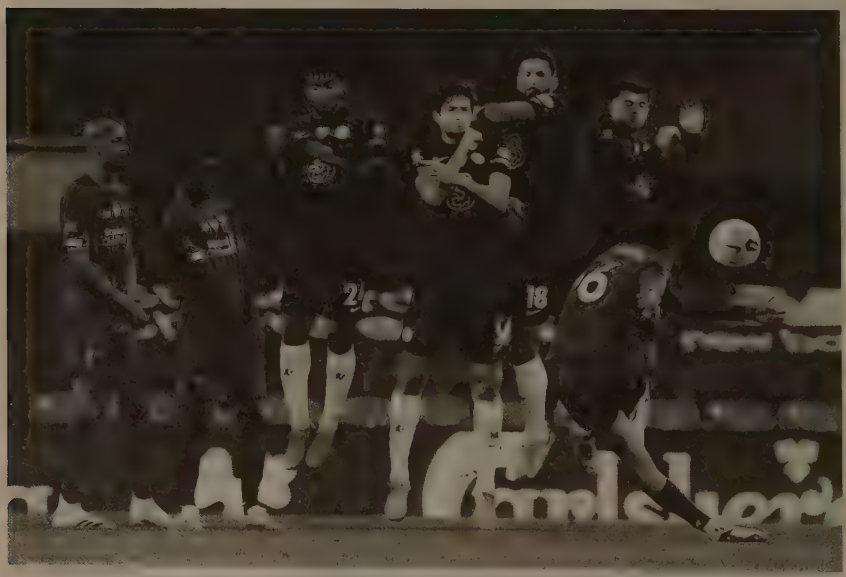
They did lift the Carabao Cup for the third successive year, beating Aston Villa in the final, but that will mean little beside an FA Cup semi-final exit to Arsenal and yet another mystifying Champions League failure. It's nine years since Pep Guardiola last won the Champions League, and over that period a clear pattern has emerged. Lyon may be a rather better side than a seventh-placed finish in Ligue Un made them seem. Still, to be so intimidated by their potency on the counter that you change your entire approach felt like a manager who has begun to overcomplicate big European games. It is as though his 4-0 home defeat to Real Madrid when Bayern manager in 2014 continues to haunt him. Having adopted a back three to try to stifle



Trent Alexander-Arnold gilded his reputation with another fine season: four goals and 13 assists helped Liverpool to their first league title in 30 years. Here he is scoring direct from a free kick against Chelsea in July.

Lyon's counter, City, without their usual width, were not merely inhibited going forward but ended up conceding three on the break anyway. As aggressive counter-pressing supplants possession as football's dominant mode – a priority on regaining rather than retaining the ball – for the first time questions have begun to be asked about Guardiola's method.

Liverpool, meanwhile, as the champions of the press, were relentless. Mohamed Salah, Roberto Firmino and Sadio Mané form arguably the best-balanced and most coherent attacking unit the Premier League has known; a blend of pace, guile and finishing ability combined with the tactical intelligence and industry to lead the press. Trent Alexander-Arnold and Andy Robertson were again potent creative forces from full-back, while Virgil van Dijk and Alisson proved themselves the best defender and goalkeeper in the league once again. That it was the captain, Jordan Henderson, who won the FWA Footballer of the Year award, though, suggested the extent to which Liverpool's success was less about individuals than the team.

After a 30-year wait for their nineteenth league title, Liverpool fans were understandably adamant there had been no anti-climax about the way the title was won, but Liverpool did suffer an odd stutter just before lockdown, losing four games out of six – a run that saw them lose their unbeaten league record at Watford, go out of the FA Cup at Chelsea and, most consequentially, exit the Champions League in thrillingly chaotic circumstances against Atletico Madrid.

They never quite regained their winter form, and as a consequence missed out on becoming only the second side to achieve 100 points, and the second to complete a season with a 100 per cent home record. They did, though, pick up the Club World Cup in December, beating Flamengo in the final. Their participation in that tournament in Qatar effectively forced them to field a youth team in the Carabao Cup – a worrying indication of the demands of the current calendar.

The drop from second to third was steep. Not since 1997–98 has 66 points been enough to take third. At the end of January, Manchester United were fifth and seemed in serious danger of missing out on Champions League qualification, but they went unbeaten after the arrival of Bruno Fernandes to finish ahead of Chelsea on goal difference. The season ended in frustration, though, as they were beaten by the eventual champions Sevilla in the Europa League semi-final.

Chelsea, despite accruing six points fewer than the previous season, were widely perceived to have had a good year. Hampered by a transfer ban and the sale of Eden Hazard, their new manager Frank Lampard blooded a number of promising young players and brought a more attacking style, but they were regularly undone by their defensive shortcomings, particularly against the counter-attack.

United and Chelsea both benefited from Leicester City's late-season collapse. Although a fifth-placed finish probably exceeded pre-season expectations, there was frustration on the final day as they ceded a Champions League slot with defeat to United, having been second at Christmas. Jamie Vardy's 23 goals, though, did make him the top scorer in the Premier League.

Tottenham took sixth and Europa League qualification with a surge over the final month. They had begun the season miserably, leading to Mauricio Pochettino departing in November to be replaced by Jose Mourinho. There has been all the usual discord, and nobody seems quite sure the extent to which the rise to sixth is Mourinho's doing.

There was a second successive seventh-placed finish for Wolves, although any frustration at missing out on European qualification was probably mitigated by the fact their season lasted 13 months, beginning in the second qualification round of the Europa League and culminating in a quarter-final. A slightly reduced schedule next season may not do anybody any harm.

Arsenal ended the season with glory at Wembley, beating Chelsea in the FA Cup final after overcoming City in the semi. That gave almost instant validation to Mikel Arteta and the project he embarked upon after replacing Unai Emery, who was sacked in November. But while Arteta has brought intensity and a clear sense of purpose, serious concerns remain about the make-up of the squad and the influence of certain agents.

Norwich beat Manchester City in September but that was a rare high point. For a time, they had a reputation for not quite getting due reward having played reasonably well but ten straight defeats at the end of the season told its own story and they were relegated 14 points adrift.

Aston Villa survived by taking 10 points from their final four games, condemning Watford, who went through four managers in an increasingly desperate attempt to generate a reaction, and Bournemouth. The Cherries parted company with Eddie Howe, who had been in charge for all but one season since 2008, soon after the end of the campaign.

Southampton's marksman Danny Ings enjoyed the most productive top-flight season of his career, scoring 22 goals in the Premier League and finishing joint-second in the race for the Golden Boot. Here he's firing home against Burnley in February. (REUTERS/David Klein)

Amid the gloomy sense that money dictates everything were three notable exceptions. Sheffield United, under Chris Wilder with his overlapping centre-backs, enjoyed a remarkable first season back in the top flight to finish ninth. Burnley again defied gravity, while Southampton overcame the embarrassment of losing 9-0 to Leicester in October, the biggest home defeat in top-flight history, to end up eleventh.

Their manager, Ralph Hasenhuttl, is part of a growing coterie of hard-pressing Austrians and Germans: Barnsley survived in the Championship in part because of Wigan's baffling lurch into administration, but also because of their charismatic Austrian coach Gerhard Struber.

The Championship was won, though, by the hardest presser of them all, Marcelo Bielsa, who in two years has transformed Leeds United. Slavan Bilic took West Bromwich Albion up in second, while Scott Parker's Fulham beat Brentford, pressing furiously and defying their relatively meagre budget under the Dane Thomas Frank, in the play-off final.

Charlton Athletic and Hull City, two clubs blighted by ownership problems, joined Wigan in being relegated, their places being taken – after the controversial decision was made to abandon the season and determine positions on a points-per-game basis – by Coventry City and Rotherham United. Gareth Ainsworth's direct Wycombe Wanderers were the improbable winners of the play-offs.

With Bury going out of business and Bolton Wanderers being docked 12 points after administration, the bottom of League One was a sad glimpse into the financial realities of the lower divisions. Southend United and Tranmere Rovers joined them in relegation on a points-per-game basis, with Swindon, Crewe, Plymouth and Northampton coming up.

Stevenage survived at the bottom of League Two as Macclesfield were relegated after being deducted 17 points in total. Barrow, another team adopting a rigorous pressing approach, returned to the league after a 48-year absence, and they were joined by Harrogate Town who beat Notts County in the play-off final to become a league club for the first time.

ACCRINGTON STANLEY

FOUNDATION

Accrington Football Club, founder members of the Football League in 1888, were not connected with Accrington Stanley. In fact both clubs ran concurrently between 1891 when Stanley were formed and 1895 when Accrington FC folded. Actually Stanley Villa was the original name, those responsible for forming the club living in Stanley Street and using the Stanley Arms as their meeting place. They became Accrington Stanley in 1893. In 1894–95 they joined the Accrington & District League, playing at Moorhead Park. Subsequently they played in the North-East Lancashire Combination and the Lancashire Combination before becoming founder members of the Third Division (North) in 1921, two years after moving to Peel Park. In 1962 they resigned from the Football League, were wound up, re-formed in 1963, disbanded in 1966 only to restart as Accrington Stanley (1968), returning to the Lancashire Combination in 1970.

AFC WIMBLEDON

FOUNDATION

While the history of AFC Wimbledon is straightforward since it was a new club formed in 2002, there were in effect two clubs operating for two years with Wimbledon connections. The other club was MK Dons, of course. In August 2001, the Football League had rejected the existing Wimbledon's application to move to Milton Keynes. In May 2002, they rejected local sites and were given permission to move by an independent commission set up by the Football League. AFC Wimbledon was founded in the summer of 2002 and held its first trials on Wimbledon Common. In subsequent years, there was considerable debate over the rightful home of the trophies obtained by the former Wimbledon football club. In October 2006, an agreement was reached between Milton Keynes Dons, its Supporters Association, the Wimbledon Independent Supporters Association and the Football Supporters Federation to transfer such trophies and honours to the London Borough of Merton.

BARROW

FOUNDATION

Barrow was home to a number of junior soccer clubs at the start of the twentieth century before a public meeting was called to set up a senior team in the town. Almost 800 people attended the meeting held in the Drill Hall on the night of Tuesday 16 July 1901 which resulted in the formation of Barrow Association Football Club. A team was put together made up, in the main, of seasoned professionals, some of whom were described as "bordering the veteran stage" and £300 was spent on laying out the club's new ground. The newly formed Barrow AFC were elected to the Lancashire League for the 1901–02 season and after making a promising start they eventually finished 10th out of 14 clubs.

FOOTBALL YEARBOOK FACT FILE

Barrow led Gillingham 7-0 in their Fourth Division match in October 1961 when the game was abandoned due to bad light. The Monday night game, played before floodlights were installed at Holker Street, started half an hour after the scheduled 5.15 p.m. kick-off because Gillingham missed their train out of Euston and had to make the 330-mile journey by plane and car. The Football League management committee decided that the result should stand and the Gills, who spent an extra £600 on their travelling costs, escaped without a fine.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Blackpool were the first team to take advantage of a rule change after the Football League lifted its ban on flying to matches. After drawing 1-1 at Arsenal on Good Friday morning in April 1957 they flew back with the aim of being less tired for their game at Preston North End the following day. The Seasiders were rewarded with a point from a 0-0 draw at Deepdale.

BOLTON WANDERERS

FOUNDATION

In 1874 boys of Christ Church Sunday School, Blackburn Street, led by their master Thomas Ogden, established a football club which went under the name of the school and whose president was vicar of Christ Church. Membership was 6d (two and a half pence). When their president began to lay down too many rules about the use of church premises, the club broke away and formed Bolton Wanderers in 1877, holding their earliest meetings at the Gladstone Hotel.

BRADFORD CITY

FOUNDATION

Bradford was a rugby stronghold around the turn of the 20th century but after Manningham RFC held an archery contest to help them out of financial difficulties in 1903, they were persuaded to give up the handling code and turn to soccer. So they formed Bradford City and continued at Valley Parade. Recognising this as an opportunity to spread the dribbling code in this part of Yorkshire, the Football League immediately accepted the new club's first application for membership of the Second Division.

BRIGHTON & HOVE ALBION

FOUNDATION

A professional club Brighton United was formed in November 1897 at the Imperial Hotel, Queen's Road, but folded in March 1900 after less than two seasons in the Southern League at the County Ground. An amateur team Brighton & Hove Rangers was then formed by some prominent United supporters and after one season at Withdean, decided to turn semi-professional and play at the County Ground. Rangers were accepted into the Southern League but folded in June 1901. John Jackson, the former United manager, organised a meeting at the Seven Stars public house, Ship Street on 24 June 1901 at which a new third club Brighton & Hove United was formed. They took over Rangers' place in the Southern League and pitch at County Ground. The name was changed to Brighton & Hove Albion before a match was played because of objections by Hove FC.

The historic meeting was held at the Albert Hall, Bedminster. Bristol City employed Sam Hollis from Woolwich Arsenal as manager and gave him £40 to buy players. In January 1921 Burnley introduced a live monkey as a mascot. The monkey, dressed in the club colours, was subsequently presented to centre-forward Joe Anderson. There was significant criticism in the local press and the monkey quickly disappeared.

BURTON ALBION

FOUNDATION

Once upon a time there were three Football League clubs bearing the name Burton. Then there were none. In reality it had been two. Originally Burton Swifts and Burton Wanderers competed in it until 1901 when they amalgamated to form Burton United. This club disbanded in 1910. There was no senior club representing the town until 1924 when Burton Town, formerly known as Burton All Saints, played in the Birmingham & District League, subsequently joining the Midland League in 1935–36. When the Second World War broke out the club fielded a team in a truncated version of the Birmingham & District League taking over from the club's reserves. But it was not revived in peacetime. So it was not until a further decade that a club bearing the name of Burton reappeared. Founded in 1950 Burton Albion made progress from the Birmingham & District League, too, then into the Southern League and because of its geographical situation later had spells in the Northern Premier League. In April 2009 Burton Albion restored the name of the town to the Football League competition as champions of the Blue Square Premier League.

DID YOU KNOW?

Carlisle United set a new club record when they were undefeated in the opening 10 games of the 1989–90 season. The run eventually came to an end when they lost at home to Scunthorpe United in October. The Cumbrians kept pace with the leading clubs for the remainder of the season only to miss out on a play-off place on goal difference.

CHARLTON ATHLETIC

FOUNDATION

The club was formed on 9 June 1905, by a group of 14- and 15-year-old youths living in streets by the Thames in the area which now borders the Thames Barrier. The club's progress through local leagues was so rapid that after the First World War they joined the Kent League where they spent a season before turning professional and joining the Southern League in 1920. A year later they were elected to the Football League's Division 3 (South).

CHELSEA

FOUNDATION

Chelsea may never have existed but for the fact that Fulham rejected an offer to rent the Stamford Bridge ground from Mr H. A. Mears who had owned it since 1904. Fortunately he was determined to develop it as a football stadium rather than sell it to the Great Western Railway and got together with Frederick Parker, who persuaded Mears of the financial advantages of developing a major sporting venue. Chelsea FC was formed in 1905 and applications made to join both the Southern League and Football League. The latter competition was decided upon because of its comparatively meagre representation in the south of England.

CHELTENHAM TOWN

FOUNDATION

Although a scratch team representing Cheltenham played a match against Gloucester in 1884, the earliest recorded match for Cheltenham Town FC was a friendly against Dean Close School on 12 March 1892. The School won 4–3 and the match was played at Prestbury (half a mile from Whaddon Road). Cheltenham Town played Wednesday afternoon friendlies at a local cricket ground until entering the Mid Gloucester League. In those days the club played in deep red coloured shirts and were nicknamed 'the Rubies'. The club moved to Whaddon Lane for season 1901–02 and changed to red and white colours two years later.

CRAWLEY TOWN

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1896, Crawley Town initially entered the West Sussex League before switching to the mid-Sussex League in 1901, winning the Second Division in its second season. The club remained at such level until 1951 when it became members of the Sussex County League and five years later moved to the Metropolitan League while remaining as an amateur club. It was not until 1962 that the club turned semi-professional and a year later, joined the Southern League. Many honours came the club's way, but the most successful run was achieved in 2010–11 when they reached the fifth round of the FA Cup and played before a crowd of 74,778 spectators at Old Trafford against Manchester United. Crawley Town spent 48 years at the Town Mead ground before a new site was occupied at Broadfield in 1997, ideally suited to access from the neighbouring motorway. History was also made on 9 April when the team won promotion to the Football League after beating Tamworth 3-0 to stretch their unbeaten League record to 26 games. They finished the season with a Conference record points total of 105 and at the same time, established another milestone for the longest unbeaten run, having extended it to 30 matches by the end of the season.

CRYSTAL PALACE

FOUNDATION

There was a Crystal Palace club as early as 1861 but the present organisation was born in 1905 after the formation of a club by the company that controlled the Crystal Palace (building) had been rejected by the FA, who did not like the idea of the Cup Final hosts running their own club. A separate company had to be formed and they had their home on the old Cup Final ground until 1915.

EXETER CITY

FOUNDATION

Exeter City was formed in 1904 by the amalgamation of St Sidwell's United and Exeter United. The club first played in the East Devon League and then the Plymouth & District League. After an exhibition match between West Bromwich Albion and Woolwich Arsenal, which was held to test interest as Exeter was then a rugby stronghold, it was decided to form Exeter City. At a meeting at the Red Lion Hotel in 1908, the club turned professional.

FLEETWOOD TOWN

FOUNDATION

Originally formed in 1908 as Fleetwood FC, it was liquidated in 1976. Re-formed as Fleetwood Town in 1977, it folded again in 1996. Once again, it was re-formed a year later as Fleetwood Wanderers, but a sponsorship deal saw the club's name immediately changed to Fleetwood Freeport through the local retail outlet centre. This sponsorship ended in 2002, but since then local energy businessman Andy Pilley took charge and the club has risen through the non-league pyramid until finally achieving Football League status in 2012 as Fleetwood Town.

FOREST GREEN ROVERS

FOUNDATION

A football club was recorded at Forest Green as early as October 1889, established by Rev Edward Peach, a local Congregationalist minister. This club joined the Mid-Gloucestershire League for 1894–95 but disappeared around 1896 and was reformed as Forest Green Rovers in 1898. Rovers affiliated to the Gloucestershire county FA from 1899–1900 and competed in local leagues, mostly the Stroud & District and Dursley & District Leagues before joining the Gloucestershire Senior League North in 1937, where they remained until 1968. They became founder members of the Gloucestershire County League in 1968 and progressed to the Hellenic League in 1975. Success over Rainworth MW in the 1982 FA Vase final at Wembley was the start of the club's rise up the pyramid, firstly to the Southern League for the 1982–83 season and then the Football Conference from 1998–99. Rovers reached the play-offs in 2014–15 and 2015–16, losing to Bristol Rovers and Grimsby Town respectively, before finally achieving their goal of a place in the Football League with their 3-1 Play-Off victory over Tranmere Rovers on 14 May 2017.

GILLINGHAM

FOUNDATION

The success of the pioneering Royal Engineers of Chatham excited the interest of the residents of the Medway Towns and led to the formation of many clubs including Excelsior. After winning the Kent Junior Cup and the Chatham District League in 1893, Excelsior decided to go for bigger things and it was at a meeting in the Napier Arms, Brompton, in 1893 that New Brompton FC came into being, buying and developing the ground which is now Priestfield Stadium. They changed their name to Gillingham in 1913, when they also changed their strip from black and white stripes to predominantly blue.

HARROGATE TOWN

FOUNDATION

An earlier club, Harrogate AFC, was formed in 1914, but did not start the 1914–15 season and was reformed in 1919. They competed in the Midland, Yorkshire and Northern Leagues before folding in 1932. The current club was established in the summer of 1935 as Harrogate Hotspurs, several of the players having previously played for Harrogate YMCA. Harry Lunn, the club's first secretary, had previously been secretary of the YMCA team. Hotspurs began life in the Harrogate & District League in 1935–36 when they finished in fourth position, gaining their first trophy when they won the Harrogate Charity Cup. By 1948 they had reached the West Yorkshire League and they changed their name to Harrogate Town to reflect their status as the town's leading club.

HUDDERSFIELD TOWN

FOUNDATION

A meeting, attended largely by members of the Huddersfield & District FA, was held at the Imperial Hotel in 1906 to discuss the feasibility of establishing a football club in this rugby stronghold. However, it was not until a man with both the enthusiasm and the money to back the scheme came on the scene that real progress was made. This benefactor was Mr Hilton Crowther and it was at a meeting at the Albert Hotel in 1908 that the club formally came into existence with an investment of £2,000 and joined the North-Eastern League.

HULL CITY

FOUNDATION

The enthusiasts who formed Hull City in 1904 were brave men indeed. More than that, they were audacious for they immediately put the club on the map in this Rugby League fortress by obtaining a three-year agreement with the Hull Rugby League club to rent their ground! They had obtained quite a number of conversions to the dribbling code, before the Rugby League forbade the use of any of their club grounds by Association Football clubs. By that time, Hull City were well away, having entered the FA Cup in their initial season and the Football League, Second Division after only a year.

IPSWICH TOWN

FOUNDATION

Considering that Ipswich Town only reached the Football League in 1938, many people outside of East Anglia may be surprised to learn that this club was formed at a meeting held in the Town Hall as far back as 1878 when Mr T. C. Cobbold, MP, was voted president. Originally it was the Ipswich Association FC to distinguish it from the older Ipswich Football Club which played rugby. These two amalgamated in 1888 and the handling game was dropped in 1893.

LEEDS UNITED

FOUNDATION

Immediately the Leeds City club (founded in 1904) was wound up by the FA in October 1919, following allegations of illegal payments to players, a meeting was called by a Leeds solicitor, Mr Alf Masser, at which Leeds United was formed. They joined the Midland League, playing their first game in that competition in November 1919. It was in this same month that the new club had discussions with the directors of a virtually bankrupt Huddersfield Town who wanted to move to Leeds in an amalgamation. But Huddersfield survived even that crisis.

Leicester City defender Graham Cross scored an unusual hat-trick during a 20-minute spell of the First Division game against Nottingham Forest at Filbert Street in April 1966. Firstly, he slammed a cross into his own goal to put the visitors 1-0 up and then made amends by equalising two minutes later, before netting the winner after 37 minutes.

LEYTON ORIENT

FOUNDATION

There is some doubt about the foundation of Leyton Orient, and, indeed, some confusion with clubs like Leyton and Clapton over their early history. As regards the foundation, the most favoured version is that Leyton Orient was formed originally by members of Homerton Theological College who established Glyn Cricket Club in 1881 and then carried on through the following winter playing football. Eventually many employees of the Orient Shipping Line became involved and so the name Orient was chosen in 1888.

The original Lincoln Football Club was established in the early 1860s and was one of the first provisional clubs to affiliate to the Football Association. The present organisation was formed at a public meeting held in the Monson Arms Hotel in June 1884 and won the Lincolnshire Cup in only their third season. They were founder members of the Midland League in 1889 and that competition's first champions.

LIVERPOOL

FOUNDATION

But for a dispute between Everton FC and their landlord at Anfield in 1892, there may never have been a Liverpool club. This dispute persuaded the majority of Evertonians to quit Anfield for Goodison Park, leaving the landlord, Mr John Houlding, to form a new club. He originally tried to retain the name 'Everton' but when this failed, he founded Liverpool Association FC on 15 March 1892.

In January 1956 Luton Town made a mid-season visit to Spain where they played a Catalonian Select XI at the Camp de Les Corts, then home of FC Barcelona. The Hatters went down to a 3-1 defeat and reports state they were jeered by the home fans for what was perceived as rough play.

MANCHESTER CITY

FOUNDATION

Manchester City was formed as a limited company in 1894 after their predecessors Ardwick had been forced into bankruptcy. However, many historians like to trace the club's lineage as far back as 1880 when St Mark's Church, West Gorton added a football section to their cricket club. They amalgamated with Belle Vue for one season before splitting again under the name Gorton Association FC in 1884–85. In 1887 Gorton AFC turned professional and moved ground to Hyde Road under the new name Ardwick AFC.

MANCHESTER UNITED

FOUNDATION

Manchester United was formed as comparatively recently as 1902 after their predecessors, Newton Heath, went bankrupt. However, it is usual to give the date of the club's foundation as 1878 when the dining room committee of the carriage and waggon works of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company formed Newton Heath L and YR Cricket and Football Club. They won the Manchester Cup in 1886 and as Newton Heath FC were admitted to the Second Division in 1892.

MANSFIELD TOWN

FOUNDATION

The club was formed as Mansfield Wesleyans in 1897, and changed their name to Mansfield Wesley in 1906 and Mansfield Town in 1910. This was after the Mansfield Wesleyan Chapel trustees had requested that the club change its name as 'it has no longer had any connection with either the chapel or school'. The new club participated in the Notts and Derby District League, but in the following season 1911–12 joined the Central Alliance.

Millwall's ground at The Den suffered bomb damage in April 1943 and shortly afterwards the grandstand was gutted by fire. As a result the Lions began the 1943–44 season playing at The Valley, also playing occasional games at Crystal Palace and West Ham, before returning home in February 1944.

DID YOU KNOW ?

The first Milton Keynes Dons player to win a full international cap was defender Craig Morgan who appeared for Wales against Cyprus in October 2006. He never actually played for the Dons after this as within a matter of days he was loaned to Wrexham, then to Peterborough before joining Posh on a permanent basis.

MORECAMBE

FOUNDATION

Several attempts to start a senior football club in a rugby stronghold finally succeeded on 7 May 1920 at the West View Hotel, Morecambe and a team competed in the Lancashire Combination for 1920–21. The club shared with a local cricket club at Woodhill Lane for the first season and a crowd of 3,000 watched the first game. The club moved to Roseberry Park, the name of which was changed to Christie Park after J.B. Christie who as President had purchased the ground.

NEWCASTLE UNITED

FOUNDATION

In October 1882 a club called Stanley, which had been formed in 1881, changed its name to Newcastle East End to avoid confusion with two other local clubs, Stanley Nops and Stanley Albion. Shortly afterwards another club, Rosewood, merged with them. Newcastle West End had been formed in August 1882 and they played on a pitch which was part of the Town Moor. They moved to Brandling Park in 1885 and St James' Park 1886 (home of Newcastle Rangers). West End went out of existence after a bad run and the remaining committee men invited East End to move to St James' Park. They accepted and, at a meeting in Bath Lane Hall in 1892, changed their name to Newcastle United.

NEWPORT COUNTY

FOUNDATION

In 1912 Newport County were formed following a meeting at The Tredegar Arms Hotel. A professional football club had existed in the town called Newport FC, but they ceased to exist in 1907. The first season as Newport County was in the second division of the Southern League. They started life playing at Somerton Park where they remained through their League years. They were elected to the Football League for the beginning of the 1920–21 season as founder members of Division 3. At the end of the 1987–88 season, they were relegated from the Football League and replaced by Lincoln City. On February 27 1989, Newport County went out of business and from the ashes Newport AFC was born. Starting down the pyramid in the Hellenic League, they eventally gained promotion to the Conference in 2011 and were promoted to the Football League after a play-off with Wrexham in 2013.

NORWICH CITY

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1902, largely through the initiative of two local schoolmasters who called a meeting at the Criterion Cafe, they were shocked by an FA Commission which in 1904 declared the club professional and ejected them from the FA Amateur Cup. NOTTINGHAM FOREST

FOUNDATION

One of the oldest football clubs in the world, Nottingham Forest was formed at a meeting in the Clinton Arms in 1865. Known originally as the Forest Football Club, the game which first drew the founders together was 'shinney', a form of hockey. When they determined to change to football in 1865, one of their first moves was to buy a set of red caps to wear on the field.

When Harvey Bradbury came off the bench for Oxford United in their Checkatrade Trophy game at Wycombe Wanderers in November 2018 he created a new first for the club. His father Lee Bradbury had made over 60 appearances for the U's between July 2004 and January 2006 and they thus became the first father and son to have appeared for the club in senior football.

PETERBOROUGH UNITED

FOUNDATION

The old Peterborough & Fletton club, founded in 1923, was suspended by the FA during season 1932–33 and disbanded. Local enthusiasts determined to carry on and in 1934 a new professional club, Peterborough United, was formed and entered the Midland League the following year. Peterborough's first success came in 1939–40, but from 1955–56 to 1959–60 they won five successive titles. During the 1958–59 season they were undefeated in the Midland League. They reached the third round of the FA Cup, won the Northamptonshire Senior Cup, the Maunsell Cup and were runners-up in the East Anglian Cup.

PLYMOUTH ARGYLE

FOUNDATION

The club was formed in September 1886 as the Argyle Athletic Club by former public and private school pupils who wanted to continue playing the game. The meeting was held in a room above the Borough Arms (a coffee house), Bedford Street, Plymouth. It was common then to choose a local street/terrace as a club name and Argyle or Argyll was a fashionable name throughout the land due to Queen Victoria's great interest in Scotland.

PRESTON NORTH END

FOUNDATION

North End Cricket and Rugby Club, which was formed in 1863, indulged in most sports before taking up soccer in about 1879. In 1881 they decided to stick to football to the exclusion of other sports and even a 16–0 drubbing by Blackburn Rovers in an invitation game at Deepdale, a few weeks after taking this decision, did not deter them for they immediately became affiliated to the Lancashire FA.

QUEENS PARK RANGERS

FOUNDATION

There is an element of doubt about the date of the foundation of this club, but it is believed that in either 1885 or 1886 it was formed through the amalgamation of Christchurch Rangers and St Jude's Institute FC. The leading light was George Wodehouse, whose family maintained a connection with the club until comparatively recent times. Most of the players came from the Queen's Park district so this name was adopted after a year as St Jude's Institute.

ROCHDALE

FOUNDATION

Considering the love of rugby in their area, it is not surprising that Rochdale had difficulty in establishing an Association Football club. The earlier Rochdale Town club formed in 1900 went out of existence in 1907 when the present club was immediately established and joined the Manchester League, before graduating to the Lancashire Combination in 1908.

SALFORD CITY

FOUNDATION

The origins of Salford City are obscure, the club having been established as Salford Central in 1940 and remained in minor competitions until 1963 when the name was changed to Salford Amateurs and they entered the Manchester League. In 1980 this club merged with another local club, Anson Villa, and adopted the name Salford. They were members of the Cheshire County League and then the North West Counties League. In 1990 Salford became Salford City and after gaining promotion to the Northern Premier League for 2008–09 they have since made rapid progress to achieve Football League status.

SCUNTHORPE UNITED

FOUNDATION

The year of foundation for Scunthorpe United has often been quoted as 1910, but the club can trace its history back to 1899 when Brumby Hall FC, who played on the Old Showground, consolidated their position by amalgamating with some other clubs and changing their name to Scunthorpe United. The year 1910 was when that club amalgamated with North Lindsey United as Scunthorpe and Lindsey United. The link is Mr W. T. Lockwood whose chairmanship covers both years.

SHEFFIELD UNITED

FOUNDATION

Southend United's Roots Hall ground hosted rugby league in the 1984–85 season when Kent Invicta moved in and rebranded under the name Southend Invicta. The move was not a success and the highest crowd attracted was 504 for the New Year's Day game against Fulham. The team finished second from bottom of the Second Division table and folded shortly afterwards.

STEVENAGE

FOUNDATION

There have been several clubs associated with the town of Stevenage. Stevenage Town was formed in 1884. They absorbed Stevenage Rangers in 1955 and later played at Broadhall Way. The club went into liquidation in 1968 and Stevenage Athletic was formed, but they, too, followed a similar path in 1976. Then Stevenage Borough was founded. The Broadhall Way pitch was dug up and remained unused for three years. Thus the new club started its life in the modest surrounds of the King George V playing fields with a roped-off ground in the Chiltern League. A change of competition followed to the Wallspan Southern Combination and by 1980 the club returned to the council-owned Broadhall Way when "Borough" was added to the name. Entry into the United Counties League was so successful the league and cup were won in the first season. On to the Isthmian League Division Two and the climb up the pyramid continued. In 1995–96 Stevenage Borough won the Conference but was denied a place in the Football League as the ground did not measure up to the competition's standards. Subsequent improvements changed this and the 7,100 capacity venue became one of the best appointed grounds in non-league football. After winning elevation to the Football League the club dropped Borough from its title.

STOKE CITY

FOUNDATION

The date of the formation of this club has long been in doubt. The year 1863 was claimed, but more recent research by local club historian Wade Martin has uncovered nothing earlier than 1868, when a couple of Old Carthusians, who were apprentices at the local works of the old North Staffordshire Railway Company, met with some others from that works, to form Stoke Ramblers. It should also be noted that the old Stoke club went bankrupt in 1908 when a new club was formed.

SWINDON TOWN

FOUNDATION

It is generally accepted that Swindon Town came into being in 1881, although there is no firm evidence that the club's founder, Rev. William Pitt, captain of the Spartans (an offshoot of a cricket club), changed his club's name to Swindon Town before 1883, when the Spartans amalgamated with St Mark's Young Men's Friendly Society.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Swindon Town were one of the earliest teams to arrange a former players' match for charitable purposes. In September 1899 a team of former Swindon players faced their counterparts from Reading in a match to raise funds for the widow of club skipper Jimmy Munro who had died suddenly from meningitis earlier in the year. Reading won the match 3-2.

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR

FOUNDATION

The Hotspur Football Club was formed from an older cricket club in 1882. Most of the founders were old boys of St John's Presbyterian School and Tottenham Grammar School. The Casey brothers were well to the fore as the family provided the club's first goalposts (painted blue and white) and their first ball. They soon adopted the local YMCA as their meeting place, but after a couple of moves settled at the Red House.

Goalkeeper Paul Robinson became only the third goalkeeper to score a goal in the history of the Premier League when he netted for Tottenham Hotspur against Watford in March 2007. His 80-yard strike directly from a free kick was also the first time a keeper had scored from his own half in the competition.

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1884 as Belmont they adopted their present title the following year and eventually joined their first league, the West Lancashire League, in 1889–90, the same year as their first success in the Wirral Challenge Cup. The club almost folded in 1899–1900 when all the players left en bloc to join a rival club, but they survived the crisis and went from strength to strength, winning the 'Combination' title in 1907–08 and the Lancashire Combination in 1913–14. They joined the Football League in 1921 from the Central League.

WALSALL

FOUNDATION

Two of the leading clubs around Walsall in the 1880s were Walsall Swifts (formed 1877) and Walsall Town (formed 1879). The Swifts were winners of the Birmingham Senior Cup in 1881, while the Town reached the 4th round (5th round modern equivalent) of the FA Cup in 1883. These clubs amalgamated as Walsall Town Swifts in 1888, becoming simply Walsall in 1895.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Injuries to the club's two regular goalkeepers, Peter McSevich and Billy Bryan, led Walsall to include 44-year-old Harry Wait between the sticks for the final five fixtures of the 1935–36 season. Wait, who had been the club's trainer since February 1930, had not played a League match for over six years prior to this.

WEST BROMWICH ALBION

FOUNDATION

There is a well known story that when employees of Salter's Spring Works in West Bromwich decided to form a football club, they had to send someone to the nearby Association Football stronghold of Wednesbury to purchase a football. A weekly subscription of 2d (less than 1p) was imposed and the name of the new club was West Bromwich Strollers.

WIGAN ATHLETIC

FOUNDATION

Following the demise of Wigan Borough and their resignation from the Football League in 1931, a public meeting was called in Wigan at the Queen's Hall in May 1932 at which a new club, Wigan Athletic, was founded in the hope of carrying on in the Football League. With this in mind, they bought Springfield Park for £2,250, but failed to gain admission to the Football League until 46 years later.

WYCOMBE WANDERERS

FOUNDATION

In 1887 a group of young furniture trade workers called a meeting at the Steam Engine public house with the aim of forming a football club and entering junior football. It is thought that they were named after the famous FA Cup winners, The Wanderers, who had visited the town in 1877 for a tie with the original High Wycombe club. It is also possible that they played informally before their formation, although there is no proof of this.
